Mental coaching for ambitious athletes

— MENTAL PERFORMANCE COACHING

Mental coaching for athletes who want to make the difference.

Focus, confidence, handling pressure and consistency — mental skills you train, just like every other part of your sport.

Focus & Concentration

Learn to direct your attention to what matters, even under pressure.

Confidence

Build confidence based on evidence, independent of results.

Handling Pressure

Turn pressure into fuel at crucial match moments.

Consistency

Perform at your best level, even when things go against you.

Coaching from real high-performance experience

I am Fons van Sambeek — active ATP professional tennis player. I studied Psychology at NC State University and combine my own experiences and knowledge to help players, on and off the court.
